How to re-develop your hiring process

“ There is no such thing as paranoia, your worst fears can come true at any moment. ”

– Hunter S Thompson

It's OK when things go wrong

You don't need to do any of the stuff
I'm suggesting

Your hiring process is brilliant

Make sure that you've got your story straight

Get your teams involved from the start

Draw the picture and then let them do the colouring in Rome wasn't built in a day

Is it working?

Thank you and Goodnight
